

LEGAL ASPECTS FOR FINANCIAL TECHNOLOGY

Financial technology (“FinTech”) refers to the financial-related application of information technology and innovation, which aim at providing more accessible and effective financial services to all. This enhances the usage of financial activities and forms an inseparable part of the business sectors nowadays. Some of these new financial technologies have forced on ways of crowdsourcing, crowdfunding, e-payment, e-commerce and these bring about legal issue, etc. As such, it is crucial for technical or business professionals to keep abreast of the development and practice of FinTech as featured in decided cases.

Through study and review of decided cases, laws and regulations of such financial technologies are explained and illustrated so that proper precautions and plans can be drawn up accordingly.

Course Contents

1. Overview of Financial Technology
2. E-payment, E-commerce and Contractual Framework
3. Cybersecurity, Payments and Securities Settlement
4. Government Regulation and Insurance for FinTech
5. Securities and Futures Ordinance (Cap. 571) and other legislation
6. Legal Challenges for Hong Kong’s Fintech Positioning
7. Case Studies and Situation Reviews

Apply Now

Date	15 December 2023 (Code: M933C/HK-12A)
Time	9:30 am to 5:00 pm
Venue	Online platform (ZOOM)
Language	Cantonese (Supplemented with English Materials)
Speaker	Practising Barrister(s)
Course Fee	HKD$1,800 per seat